

Wesley Williams II

CAREER SUMMARY

Award-winning meteorologist with compelling storytelling skills. Veteran of breaking weather coverage including hurricanes, tornadoes, and winter storms. Expert of weather graphics utilization and weather application features.

EDUCATION

University of South Alabama - Mobile, Alabama

Bachelor of Science in Meteorology

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Morning Meteorologist

2017 to Present

WLOX-TV - Biloxi, Mississippi

- Weekday morning meteorologist responsible for forecasting, producing, and presenting storytelling WSI MAX graphics for South Mississippi
- Severe weather experience includes breaking hurricane and tropical storm coverage as well as breaking coverage of tornadic thunderstorms and winter storm events
- Anchors weather for weekday morning newscasts, occasionally reports live from outdoor locations
- Anchors coverage of live local events, including Cruisin' the Coast and Mardi Gras parades
- Fills in for hosting a weekly "good news" show called Gulf Coast Good News
- Additional responsibilities include working with weather team to create a yearly hurricane special, providing daily and breaking video updates to digital products including station mobile weather app and website.

Meteorologist

2015 to 2017

WLOX-TV - Biloxi, Mississippi

- Weekday and weekend meteorologist responsible for forecasting, producing, and presenting storytelling WSI MAX graphics for South Mississippi
- Severe weather experience included breaking hurricane and tropical storm coverage as well as breaking coverage of tornadic thunderstorms and winter storm events
- Anchored weather for weekend morning and weekday newscasts, reported live from outdoor locations
- Additional responsibilities included providing live video updates to social media platforms and speaking at public events

Meteorologist

2013 to 2015

KTVE / KARD - West Monroe, Louisiana

- Weekend meteorologist responsible for forecasting, producing, and presenting storytelling WSI MAX graphics for south Arkansas and north Louisiana
- Severe weather experience included a variety of local severe weather events including tornadic and winter storm events
- Anchored weather for weekend evening newscasts; primary fill-in meteorologist
- Additional responsibilities included updating graphical weather content to social media platforms, enterprising, writing and tracking news story packages, delivering weather presentations to schools, and making community appearances